

2018 EAHIL Council Election - Candidate Statement
Country	Finland
Name	Elise Johansson
Affiliation	Turku University Library, University of Turku
My professional education and experience	I have a Masters degree in organic chemistry (1999) and I have studied Information studies, Biochemistry and Environmental studies as minor subjects. I've been working in the medical industry, University of applied sciences and at the Åbo Akademi bioscience library before I started as an information specialist in science and medicine at the University of Turku for seven years ago. The last four years I've been working as an information specialist specialized in medicine and nursing science.
What I think is special about EAHIL	The wonderful EAHIL-spirit that makes you feel at home at the conferences. The amount of respect and support that is given for everyone is unique.
What I expect to contribute to EAHIL Council	As I'm running for my second EAHIL-election I hope that I can continue the previous work, attend the meetings and give my expertise to the use of Council. I try to give feedback on initiatives made and to see the whole picture of a Finnish and maybe even a little bit of a Nordic perspective.
What I think are the most important issues for European health information professionals in 2019-2022	The changes that are affecting our work: open access publishing, data management questions, increased use of different types of metrics and the diminishing resources.
My one-line statement for my election campaign	Together through the changes
