My professional education and experience	I am an experienced medical librarian at the Regional Hospital Central Jutland in Viborg, Denmark. In my work I support hospital staff and researchers throughout the hospital with literature searching. I have experience working as an embedded librarian and conducting systematic reviews. My research interests include the reporting and standards of information retrieval, as part of the systematic review process. I have great interest in the potential of new technologies within ICT, learning and library didactics and have completed the Master of ICT and Learning (MIL) at Aalborg University in Aalborg, Denmark. Before joining the Medical Library in Viborg at the Regional Hospital Central Jutland in Viborg, I worked at the Medical Library at Aalborg University Hospital for nearly 8 years, and has also worked in University College Libraries and a public library.
What I think is special about EAHIL	Coming from a small country, I think EAHIL provides an important extended professional network with colleagues from all over Europe and facilitates the exchange of ideas, troubleshooting and professional development.
What I expect to contribute to EAHIL Council	I will strive to improve professional collaboration amongst librarians in the health care sector and be an active link between the health care libraries community in Denmark and EAHIL Council.
What I think are the most important issues for European health information professionals in 2019-2022	In the recent light of the pandemic now more than ever we need to work together and share our professional experiences.
My one-line statement for my election campaign	Information for life.
