I'm also interested in new technologies used in libraries and library space and buildings.

Aims for EAHIL

EAHIL is a great achievement in the field of cooperation of European librarians. The annual meetings are a valuable opportunity to share experiences and knowledge. I would like to support the possibility of cooperation between librarians not only during the annual meetings, but also throughout the entire year. My first term in Board allowed me to get experience and knowledge about the EAHIL. I'd like to be more active in collaboration with Council members to promote our Association in different countries especially in Central and Eastern Europe. There is a great opportunity for librarians to share experiences and collaborate not only during annual events, but also by different forms of international activity like Erasmus+ Programme, or on-line meetings and webinars. The COVID-19 isolation period taught us how to work on-line and in the post-pandemic environment we will be more convinced to use different on-line collaboration methods. I'd like to encourage our community to use the on-line collaboration tools more widely, not only for exchanging experiences but also for building stronger relations.
