My professional education and experience	I graduated from Istanbul University Information and Document Management Department in 2012. In 2013 I started to work as Branch Librarian at Koç University School of Nursing Library. Following the opening of the Teaching & Research Hospital in 2015, the library has been extended and named as Health Sciences Library. Currently, I work as the Head of Koç University Health Sciences Library.
What I think is special about EAHIL	Knowledge is power but sharing is even more powerful. EAHIL is an important gateway for sharing and learning from each other.
What I expect to contribute to EAHIL Council	Koç University is a leading institute in Turkey and its library has introduced EAHIL to Turkish medical librarians' community back in 2011. The annual workshop, although it was before me has been organized in İstanbul by my fellow librarians. Based on this background story, I would like to serve as the connection point between EAHIL community and my Turkish colleagues.
What I think are the most important issues for European health information professionals in 2019-2022	Open Access, Open Science, Resource Sharing, Remote and Online Information Services Data Management, 3D technologies, Acting together
My one-line statement for my election campaign	We have a lot of work to do but we can do it together, not alone.
